

Poetic Justice

Read the following poem over and over using the different emotions listed below. Practice in front of a mirror or record yourself to witness your facial expressions, body movements and vocal variety. Learn to change your delivery to match the message and mood of the occasion.

- passion
- anger
- fear
- doubt
- joy

Knowing what I know now,

I would have done things differently.

Knowing who I am now,

I would have lived differently.

Knowing where I've been now,

I would have ventured out differently.

Knowing who you arenow?

I would have done, lived, ventured and loved differently...

I would have experienced less pain and more joy...

But then again....I may not have had the privilege to REALLY know YOU!

....Thank you (God) for loving me through my choices.